

INDIAN MUSIC THERAPY ASSOCIATION

Why IMTA?

Music Therapy is a growing non-invasive intervention in hospitals, hospices, rehabilitation-centres, elder's home, army barracks, pre and post surgical wards, health centres and the like, all over the world. Decades back, the Americans had pioneered using music as a therapeutic intervention for rehabilitation of the world war veterans. However, historically and also legendarily it is the Indians who pioneered the application of nada as a form of yoga to uplift once level of consciousness to achieve 'relaxed alertness'.

In view of the rich heritage of musical culture with immense varieties and forms, the Indian ragas have all contributed favourably to inculcate tremendous resilience among the populations which had been historically facing untold sufferings by way of frequent foreign invasions, uncertainties of climatic changes viz. floods, drought causing displacements of populations from place to place, colonial aggression, despotic rulers, superstitious and unreasonable outlook of medieval populations etc.

Unfortunately the esoteric ideas blossomed in the form of principles and practices of Yoga, Nada Yoga, Raga Chikitsa etc., became decadent due to western influence. It is only in recent years there has been a movement to revive them by some scholars and practitioners of Music and Music Therapy. With the establishment of some music therapy centres in places like Bangalore, Chennai, Delhi, etc, many youngsters have been enthused to take up music therapy as a serious profession. There is a growing need of an association to look after the interest of these new professionals. To fulfil their aspiration and also towards achieving greater professionalism in this highly challenging discipline, Indian Music Therapy Association has now taken its roots.

All Music Therapists, Music Healers, Musicians, Music Lovers, Medical Professionals, Psychologists, Social Service Volunteers and the common people believing in the power of Music, are welcome to join this Association as members.
